No more stupid meetings!

Over 17 million meetings are held daily and half of them are considered to be a waste of time. Executives of billion dollar companies sit in "information-only-meetings" 65% of their time. This is a tragedy and waste of their time.

"Meetings need to stop. They are mostly a waste of time and more importantly, talent" says Jerry McNellis, Founder of the Compression Planning Institute, Pittsburgh, PA. "People need to really think about what they are trying to accomplish and who can best help them make it happen."

Jerry is a fun, entertaining interview. He'll tell your audience:

- Why most meetings fail before they ever begin
- How to stop ending meetings with "will anyone be doing anything?"
- How to keep adults from behaving like misfits and brats in meetings
- Why universally understood decisions are never made
- How to get "meeting minutes" out quickly
- Why so call experts are the worst person to lead a meeting
- How a simple 7-step process can cover 99%+ of your meetings

Jerry McNellis has facilitated countless meetings and trained thousands of individuals in how to lead better ones. He developed The Executive Decision Making System used by executive teams across the country. He is also a guest presenter for Geneva College in their Master of Science in Organizational Leadership's Decision Making class.
